MAN ABOUT TOWN

I

Living on an island, you would think going out on the water would be a regular thing. Well, I need a bit more encouragement thanks to a weak constitution.

I was invited out on the Jolly II Rover which I have seen many times but never experienced.

The Jolly II Rover is a square rigged topsail schooner and what that means is there are a ton of sails, but they are a bit much to open up so for the sunset sail, they only opened the main sails. It was a bit breezy so those were enough to keep us moving right along.

The captain and crew are not only well versed about what we passed as we headed out, but they also play on a bit of a pirate theme. This was much more prevalent as we would get along side another ship and they would fire the cannon at the other ship. These cannons may be small but they make for a loud bang which likely would startle anyone that didn't realize this was just for fun.

While they don't serve alcohol on the sunset trip, they do have a cooler available for you to bring your own aboard, and they do have soda and water as well as some snacks available.

As for my constitution, that made itself known during the trip and the crew saw I was getting a bit green and they changed course to smooth out the ride for me.

If you get the chance, take a trip on the Jolly II Rover and feel like a real pillaging pirate!

Brief Summary of Patient Information about BIKTARVY®

BIKTARVY (bik-TAR-vee) (bictegravir, emtricitabine, and tenofovir alafenamide) tablets

Important: Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist about medicines that should not be taken with BIKTARVY. For more information, see “What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking BIKTARVY?”

What is the most important information I should know about BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY can cause serious side effects, including:

- ▶ Worsening of hepatitis B virus (HBV) infection. If you have an HBV infection and take BIKTARVY, your HBV may get worse (flare-up) if you stop taking BIKTARVY. A “flare-up” is when your HBV infection suddenly returns in a worse way than before.
 - Do not run out of BIKTARVY. Refill your prescription or talk to your healthcare provider before your BIKTARVY is all gone.
 - Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider. If you stop taking BIKTARVY, your healthcare provider will need to check your health often and do blood tests regularly for several months to check your HBV infection. Tell your healthcare provider about any new or unusual symptoms you may have after you stop taking BIKTARVY.

For more information about side effects, see “What are the possible side effects of BIKTARVY?”

What is BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY is a prescription medicine that is used without other anti-HIV-1 medicines to treat Human Immunodeficiency Virus-1 (HIV-1) in adults:

- ▶ who have not received anti-HIV-1 medicines in the past, or
- ▶ to replace their current anti-HIV-1 medicines for people whose healthcare provider determines that they meet certain requirements.

HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome).

BIKTARVY contains the prescription medicines bictegravir, emtricitabine, and tenofovir alafenamide.

It is not known if BIKTARVY is safe and effective in children under 18 years of age.

Do not take BIKTARVY if you also take a medicine that contains:

- ▶ dofetilide
- ▶ rifampin

What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking BIKTARVY?

Before taking BIKTARVY, tell your healthcare provider about all your medical conditions, including if you:

- ▶ have liver problems, including hepatitis B virus infection
- ▶ have kidney problems
- ▶ are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if BIKTARVY can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant during treatment with BIKTARVY.

Pregnancy Registry: There is a pregnancy registry for women who take antiviral medicines during pregnancy. The purpose of this registry is to collect information about the health of you and your baby. Talk with your healthcare provider about how you can take part in this registry.

- ▶ are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed if you take BIKTARVY.
 - You should not breastfeed if you have HIV-1 because of the risk of passing HIV-1 to your baby.
 - At least one of the medicines in BIKTARVY can pass to your baby in your breast milk. It is not known if the other medicines in BIKTARVY can pass into your breast milk.

Talk with your healthcare provider about the best way to feed your baby.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements. Some medicines may interact with BIKTARVY. Keep a list of your medicines and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist when you get a new medicine.

- ▶ You can ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist for a list of medicines that interact with BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Do not start a new medicine without telling your healthcare provider. Your healthcare provider can tell you if it is safe to take BIKTARVY with other medicines.

How should I take BIKTARVY?

- ▶ Take BIKTARVY exactly as your healthcare provider tells you to take it. BIKTARVY is taken by itself (not with other HIV-1 medicines) to treat HIV-1 infection.
- ▶ Take BIKTARVY 1 time each day with or without food.
- ▶ Do not change your dose or stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking with your healthcare provider. Stay under a healthcare provider's care during treatment with BIKTARVY.
- ▶ If you take antacids that contain aluminum, magnesium, or calcium, take BIKTARVY on an empty stomach 2 hours before you take these antacids.
- ▶ If you take supplements that contain iron or calcium, take these supplements with food at the same time that you take BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Do not miss a dose of BIKTARVY.
- ▶ If you take too much BIKTARVY, call your healthcare provider or go to the nearest hospital emergency room right away.
- ▶ When your BIKTARVY supply starts to run low, get more from your healthcare provider or pharmacy. This is very important because the amount of virus in your blood may increase if the medicine is stopped for even a short time. The virus may develop resistance to BIKTARVY and become harder to treat.

What are the possible side effects of BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects, including:

- ▶ See “What is the most important information I should know about BIKTARVY?”
- ▶ Changes in your immune system (Immune Reconstitution Syndrome) can happen when you start taking HIV-1 medicines. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections that have been hidden in your body for a long time. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you start having any new symptoms after starting your HIV-1 medicine.
- ▶ New or worse kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do blood and urine tests to check your kidneys when starting and during treatment with BIKTARVY. Your healthcare provider may tell you to stop taking BIKTARVY if you develop new or worse kidney problems.
- ▶ Too much lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis). Too much lactic acid is a serious but rare medical emergency that can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: weakness or being more tired than usual, unusual muscle pain, being short of breath or fast breathing, stomach pain with nausea and vomiting, cold or blue hands and feet, feel dizzy or lightheaded, or a fast or abnormal heartbeat.
- ▶ Severe liver problems. In rare cases, severe liver problems can happen that can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow, dark “tea-colored” urine, light-colored stools, loss of appetite for several days or longer, nausea, or stomach-area pain.

The most common side effects of BIKTARVY are diarrhea (6%), nausea (5%), and headache (5%).

These are not all the possible side effects of BIKTARVY.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to the FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

General information about the safe and effective use of BIKTARVY.

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Patient Information leaflet. Do not use BIKTARVY for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give BIKTARVY to other people, even if they have the same symptoms you have. It may harm them.

This Brief Summary summarizes the most important information about BIKTARVY. If you would like more information, talk with your healthcare provider. You can ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist for information about BIKTARVY that is written for health professionals. For more information, call 1-800-445-3235 or go to www.BIKTARVY.com.

Keep BIKTARVY and all medicines out of reach of children.

“THE TRAUMA CLEANER: ONE WOMAN’S EXTRAORDINARY LIFE IN THE BUSINESS OF DEATH, DECAY, AND DISASTER” BY SARAH KRASNOSTEIN
c.2018, St. Martin’s Press | $26.99 | 291 pages

Wash your hands thoroughly.

That’s good advice, no matter where you are. At the risk of sounding germophobic, you never know what lurked on that which you just touched. Stay healthy, keep clean, be tidy, and wash your hands because, as you’ll see in the new book “The Trauma Cleaner” by Sarah Krasnostein, messy life, messy house.

The woman didn’t seem very old, but it was really hard to tell. She wouldn’t let anyone past her screen door – as if the stench wasn’t enough to keep most people away.

Hoarder situations like that, suicides, undiscovered deaths, and accidents are business-as-usual for Sandra Pankhurst, 60-something owner of Specialized Trauma Cleaning (STC) in Australia. But as author Sarah Krasnostein learned when she befriended her, Pankhurst extends to those clients compassion, and nothing less.

There was ample reason for that.

Although many of the questions Krasnostein asked Pankhurst were waved away with claims of disremembering, it’s true that Pankhurst was born a boy, raised as a boy, became a man, married a woman, and fathered two sons. But “Peter,” as Krasnostein pseudonymously calls Pankhurst then, was hiding a part of himself so, soon after his youngest son's birth, he left his family to live as a woman.

Though "her reality is as conflicted as it is real," Pankhurst told Krasnostein tales of being a sex-worker and a madam. Dates and locales may've been incorrect and names forgotten, but it's also true that Pankhurst eventually fully transitioned, and continued to work in the sex industry until she was raped and almost lost her life. She fell in love, fell out of love, fell in love again, married an older man, and divorced.

It was because of her ex that Pankhurst founded STC.

"As a boss," says Krasnostein, "Sandra is, variously, mother hen... bad cop... and hanging judge." Her business cleans up sites affected by hoarding and death, and she's matter-of-fact about bugs, vermin, and smells as her staff hauls away pathogen-soaked furniture while ensuring that next-of-kin are treated with kindness.

Says Pankhurst, "None of us know what tomorrow's got in store."

As enjoyable as this unique tale is, there are a few things you'll need to know before you sweep through "The Trauma Cleaner."

First of all, in her get-to-know-you time, author Sarah Krasnostein became close friends with her subject, which is good in most cases. Here, though, Krasnostein uses familiarity to gush about her subject in a way that could make readers wince uncomfortably. She's also exceedingly, perhaps needlessly, explicit in details of a sexual nature while largely ignoring big opportunities for enlightenment on the business side of the book.

And yet...

The goodness – and there's an industrial-sized dustpan full of it – comes between the lines. This is a biography of cringing, compassion, and somebody's-got-to-do-it resourcefulness, plus irritations, but with a breezy heft of fabrication built in. It's so singular that it's almost irresistible; indeed, if you can get past the gushing and the gruesome, "The Trauma Cleaner" is a book you shouldn't wait to get your hands on.

MY BIG GAY LIFE

Brad Loekle

A HOLE NEW WORLD

At 40, I'd thought I'd heard it all when it comes to sex and sexually "gifted" diseases. But I was wrong. Recently, on the last day of the Atlantis Events Cancun Resort event I was having a light lunch with friends. Then, one of them chirped out a sentence that will ring in my ears for all of time. It was not just what he said, but the casual nature with which he said it.

I often find that the way in which people say things is more informative than what they're saying in the first place. Intent tells you a lot more about a person than nouns and verbs. I'm sure none of us like being called a "Fag" in anger by a stranger... However, when my mother yells my full Christian name through a house in a tone that lets me know I'm about to have my ass handed to me... my own name, then, strikes more fear into my heart than the "F word".

Right as I was about to bite into a delightful Chili Relleno, my friend, who looks and really is the most delightful little gay guy you've ever met, comes out with the following sentence.

And then I went to the infirmary today and found out I have Butt Strep again...

Immediately 3 of us at the table dropped our silverware. Because... what?!?! What on earth is that and how on earth do you get it and why on earth do you think lunch is the time to tell us? Given my profession, all eyes quickly moved onto me; awaiting my response. My inquiry was balanced and calm:

What the fuck is that? How did you get it? Did you also say “again” at the end of the sentence, because I’m pretty sure you did? Does your mother know what a pock-riddled cum dumpster you are, or do you class it up at Christmas?

He went on to explain that Strep Butt is exactly what you’d think. It’s when someone with strep throat eats your ass, thus giving your ass Strep. Although the “again” was self-evident I still made him elaborate on how many times he’d gotten this before. Three. The answer was three. I haven’t had strep throat in probably ten years but this queen mouth-butt can’t stop picking it up. He then came out with the more ridiculous statement:

My doctor told me it’s very common in children

I then explained this could only be true if his doctor mainly treats children who go to a kindergarten near an airport strip club. Which, let’s face it, exist in Florida, Nevada, New Jersey, and Kentucky... just to name a few. We all ate as much of our lunches as we could. When the dessert menu came he, unwittingly, asked if anyone would want to split something with him. So I threw a glass of prosecco in his face and told him that unless it was holy water or a Z-pac, no one wanted to share anything with him except his shame.

So as we head into the sexual summer season... just be aware...

STREP BUTT.

Close To Perfect - Far From Normal

Welcome to Key West!!!

Welcome to our little island paradise! Whether you are a first time visitor or visit regularly we hope you enjoy your time here. This year we have a lot to celebrate. Forty years ago a group of Gay owned businesses got together to form the Key West Business Guild. A lot has happened in the past 40 years.

Fifteen years ago we showed our Pride with the unfurling of the Sea-to-shining-sea Rainbow Flag down Duval St. Flag creator Gilbert Baker created the original Rainbow flag with its eight colors for San Francisco's Pride in 1978. Over the years two of the colors, hot pink and turquoise, had been dropped due to manufacturing issues. But in Key West 25 years later all eight of the original colors were streaming down Duval Street, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic Ocean. We are proud that a Rainbow Flag flies at Key West City Hall.

In addition to celebrating the Guild's 40th Anniversary, and the 15th Anniversary of the Sea-to-shining-sea flag we are celebrating PRIDE. This gives us the opportunity to demonstrate once more the guiding principle of this little island community with a big heart. We are indeed "One Human Family". It is our official motto and we proudly proclaim that to the millions of visitors we welcome every year.

"Close to Perfect, Far from Normal" sums us up just right. So welcome to our quirky, fun, little island. Thank you for becoming a part of our family this week. We are glad you are here.

ASK NANA

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

I've been seeing a great guy for 6 months. He's 21 and I'm 25. We are both still virgins and that's really the only problem with our relationship. I really want to bottom for him but it's just when we try; I'm always so extremely tight that it just seems impossible. It frustrates me because I really do want to bottom for him and I know he really want to top me. We tried poppers, they did nothing for me but make me dizzy... HELP!

Talk about the blind leading the blind! Well, you're both not completely blind... just blind in your brown eyes, so to speak. Before we even get to your sphincter stage fright, let's talk about the fact that you're two gay men in 21st century who made it to 21 & 25 as virgins. I don't know whether to kiss you or smack you! Listen, in my day, a lady had to wait until she was married, unless of course she was a whore, but that was about 200 years ago! Has there been no progress with the youth?! For God's sake, sugar snaps, one of you needs to start ham slamming the other tout suite! A lot of anal tension is in your head (haha!)... so first of all, you need to calm down and enjoy the ride. You two should try to have fun just working up to the big day (or night) when he's two boots deep in you. Also, go to the sex store and get some anal toys... SMALL anal toys... and start wearing in the track, so to speak. Oh, and just a little word of advice, if it feels like you might take a shit right as he's putting it to you... you're doing it right!

Dear Nana,

My boyfriend looks at a lot of online porn. Not to the point where he's late for work or dinner or anything... but a good, healthy amount. I know I shouldn't but I have a tendency to look at his laptop to see what he's been watching. And all the porn he's watching is straight porn. Should I be worried??

Worried? About What? That your big gay boyfriend is crossing over to the dark side? Hardly, Mary! Listen, though I haven't met your boyfriend, I can assure you that he is a huge homosexual. What can I say, I'm psychic like that. My guess is that he just likes to see porn that has stuff he'll never do. And, he probably likes butch guys in his fantasy. To some extent, it's like he jerks off to Discovery Channel... because straight sex is some far off exotic environment that he will never see firsthand. You've got nothing to worry about. He's not about to turn his sexual channel from "Bonernanza" to "Gash Bridges" that quickly. You two will be covering each other in DNA for years to cum! ;-)

DO YOU HAVE PROBLEMS? OF COURSE YOU DO! WHY NOT LET NANA HELP YOU?!
