MAN ABOUT TOWN

E

Exploring Key West can be one of the greatest ways to spend a day. Whether you want to see the cemetery, the lighthouse, the beaches, the East and West Martello Towers, Fort Zach, or even head up the keys to see what's beyond this little island, you can spend a day or more just seeing the sights.

Getting to all of these great places can be just as much fun!

If you plan on staying on the island, scooters are a great way to get around because you get a full view of everything around you. They are easy to park, use very little gas, and let's face it, everyone feels a little bad ass on two wheels!

For those that feel the need for a few more wheels, a golf cart is another great choice. While limited to 25 MPH, these carts can take you pretty much everywhere you want to go on the island while still giving you that open air feel and great views. Some are electric, and some are gas. Just remember, these are considered cars and all rules apply when it comes to road and parking laws.

For either of these two options, check out the Moped Hospital on the corner of Truman and Simonton.

One of the more exciting options is to rent a Jeep from Key West Adventures. They have a great selection of Jeeps with hard tops, soft tops, bimini tops, or just go topless. They will also equip your Jeep with accessories for an adventure such as beach supplies, paddleboards, bikes, kayaks and more. Let them know what you want to do, or ask them what they recommend and they will set the Jeep up for you with everything you need. The great thing is that with a Jeep, you can explore off island and head up the Keys for a real Keys Adventure.

Whatever you decide to do, be safe and don't drink and drive!

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

What is the most important information I should know about BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects:

- ▶ Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. If you have both HIV-1 and HBV and stop taking BIKTARVY, your HBV may suddenly get worse. Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to monitor your health.

Who should not take BIKTARVY?

Do not take BIKTARVY if you take:

- ▶ dofetilide
- ▶ rifampin
- ▶ any other medicines to treat HIV-1

What are the other possible side effects of BIKTARVY?

Serious side effects of BIKTARVY may also include:

- ▶ Changes in your immune system. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections. Tell your healthcare provider if you have any new symptoms after you start taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do blood and urine tests to check your kidneys. If you develop new or worse kidney problems, they may tell you to stop taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Too much lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis), which is a serious but rare medical emergency that can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: weakness or being more tired than usual, unusual muscle pain, being short of breath or fast breathing, stomach pain with nausea and vomiting, cold or blue hands and feet, feel dizzy or lightheaded, or a fast or abnormal heartbeat.

- ▶ Severe liver problems, which in rare cases can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow, dark “tea-colored” urine, light-colored stools, loss of appetite for several days or longer, nausea, or stomach-area pain.

The most common side effects of BIKTARVY in clinical studies were diarrhea (6%), nausea (5%), and headache (5%). Tell your healthcare provider if you have any side effects that bother you or don't go away.

What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking BIKTARVY?

- ▶ All your health problems. Be sure to tell your healthcare provider if you have or have had any kidney or liver problems, including hepatitis virus infection.
- ▶ All the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements. BIKTARVY and other medicines may affect each other. Keep a list of all your medicines and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist, and ask if it is safe to take BIKTARVY with all of your other medicines.
- ▶ If you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if BIKTARVY can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant while taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ If you are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed. HIV-1 can be passed to the baby in breast milk.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Ask your healthcare provider if BIKTARVY is right for you.

Please see Important Facts about BIKTARVY, including important warnings, on the following page.

KEEP EMPOWERING.

Because HIV doesn't change who you are.

What is BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults. It can either be used in people who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before, or people who are replacing their current HIV-1 medicines and whose healthcare provider determines they meet certain requirements.

BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS.

IMPORTANT FACTS

This is only a brief summary of important information about BIKTARVY[®] and does not replace talking to your healthcare provider about your condition and your treatment.

MOST IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects, including:

- Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. If you have both HIV-1 and HBV, your HBV may suddenly get worse if you stop taking BIKTARVY. Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to check your health regularly for several months.

ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults. It can either be used in people who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before, or people who are replacing their current HIV-1 medicines and whose healthcare provider determines they meet certain requirements.

BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS.

Do NOT take BIKTARVY if you also take a medicine that contains:

- dofetilide
- rifampin
- any other medicines to treat HIV-1

BEFORE TAKING BIKTARVY

Tell your healthcare provider all your medical conditions, including if you:

- Have or have had any kidney or liver problems, including hepatitis infection.
- Are pregnant or plan to become pregnant.
- Are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed if you have HIV-1 because of the risk of passing HIV-1 to your baby.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take:

- Keep a list that includes all prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements, and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist.
- Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist about medicines that interact with BIKTARVY.

POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY can cause serious side effects, including:

- Those in the “Most Important Information About BIKTARVY” section.
- Changes in your immune system.
- New or worse kidney problems, including kidney failure.

LGBT Book Reviews by Terri Schlichenmeyer

"GIVEN UP FOR YOU: A MEMOIR OF LOVE, BELONGING, AND BELIEF"

BY ERIN O. WHITE

c.2018, University of Wisconsin Press | $26.95 | 192 pages

It's official: you now belong.

Being a member of a certain club was something you've wanted since you knew of its existence. Joining was a dream come true and now you're a part of the group but, as in the new memoir "Given Up for You" by Erin O. White, what part of yourself did you relinquish to join?

Missing the last train back to her home was no problem. Actually, Erin White was glad for it. She was anticipating what could happen next.

She'd never slept with a woman, had never even considered it but, on that night she met Chris at a dinner party, it was all she could think of. It was odd but thrilling, so by the time Chris told their hostess that White could stay at her apartment that night, White was "already in love."

What would she tell her therapist? She "knew he would disapprove" – and he did, but they rarely discussed White's relationship. Mostly, they "talked about God."

For some time, White had been exploring that which her soul seemed to crave and, at her therapist's urging, she read the Gospels and was "stunned" by the words. She cautiously attended Catholic services and began learning more about God and religion; eventually, she broke up with Chris, who'd been raised in the Church and avoided it as an adult, but White couldn't stay away.

It was difficult to explain, she says. She was a lesbian, but she wasn't; in fact, there were times when "lesbian" just felt wrong. As for God, she needed to know Him better. White wanted "to love a woman yet avail myself of the opportunities... of straight culture; to break the rules of the church but still feel myself beloved by it."

But since nobody can have everything both ways, she made her choice.

Two kids, fights, triumphs, and a strong marriage later, she sees things in a different light. Church is comfort now. It's home. But to get to that point, it took the courage to say "I loved that crazy Church, I loved those wild ideas about God, and I gave them up because I also wanted you."

Although it's already pretty short, "Given Up for You" could have been shorter.

Maybe that's because it's too much: author Erin O. White offers a three-pronged memoir of love, faith, and motherhood, and that's a lot to pack into such a small space. And yet – what could be eliminated? Since each prong is dependant on the others – probably, alas, nothing.

Still, while readers may struggle with overabundance of story, there's a lot to come away with. White's search for faith is universal and easily understood; although she might have explored homophobia a bit more, the subject of gay Christians and her experiences are presented in a way that's calm and thoughtful.

Enter into this book knowing that it's sometimes slow. Beware that it's a bit long. Read it with a perfectly happy willingness to (gasp!) skip paragraphs and "Given Up for You" may belong on your bookshelf.

MY BIG GAY LIFE

Brad Loekle

SOUTH BY SOUTHWEST

Reports came in recently that a man on a Southwest Airlines flight masturbated through an entire flight. Reread that sentence if you have to. We'll wait for you...

The flight was going from Las Vegas to Philadelphia. First of all, of course it was leaving from Las Vegas. I've seen more people publically fucking or masturbating in Las Vegas than I've seen at some bathhouses. And that's saying something. And just so we're all on the same page, the woman claiming to have seen this incident says it went on for the entire FIVE-HOUR flight. I don't know whether that man should be given an award or see a urologist. Forget calluses on his hands, he's got to have calluses on his dick not to mention some fierce carpal tunnel.

Other questions loom such as: did he have lube? He couldn't have brought more than 3oz of lube with him in his carry on and I don't know if 3oz would last FIVE HOURS. Did he take breaks? Southwest has a lovely snack selection and I don't know if I'd keep masturbating if free Terra chips were being thrown around all willy-nilly.

According to the tweets she sent to the airline, he also was watching porn on his iPad without headphones. So who just ignored the sounds of porn at 30,000 feet? Why wasn't there a revolt on the part of the whole plane? And if not a revolt, who can listen to porn for FIVE HOURS and not just end up getting horny enough to join in? That plane should have turned into a protest or a whack-fest. Period.

Oh and it gets better! Apparently, near the end of the flight, when the flight attendants were collecting garbage, the man handed one of them a pile of his wadded up tissues. I mean, is this life now? Is this what America is in a post-fact, post-intelligent, post-Trump world? Are we just monkeys jerking off in coach and flinging our cum rags at the first mammal to walk past?

I don't know why people think having sexy-time in the air is, well, sexy at all. The bathrooms are so small you can barely wipe your own ass, more or less use it for more Grecian purposes. I've even seen people jerking off or getting a hand job from a "loved one" under a blanket. One of those filthy, thin, synthetic airline blankets. Can you imagine? My penis has only ever known cotton or silk and I intend to keep it that way.

All I know is that this makes me happy I fly Delta. And I'll never listen to the Elton John song "Philadelphia Freedom" the same way again.

Brad Loekle was a semi-finalist on NBC's "Last Comic Standing". He can be seen every week on TruTV's "World's Dumbest", has written for Joan Rivers on E! "Fashion Police" & tours internationally. His book, "My Big Gay Life" is available on Amazon and at www.bradloekle.com

Welcome to Cayo Hueso!

A little over 500 years ago, the Spanish explorer Juan Ponce de León first discovered Florida. His Spanish brethren soon named our little island Cayo Hueso, or Bone Island. Who knew those Spaniard's were so kinky? OK, maybe we are thinking of something different than they were when we use that title! Regardless, we owe it to our Spanish friends for the well-known name that now attracts men from around the world to our Bone Island.

We are very excited to share this Bone Island Bare It All with our many returning friends. Even more so, we are excited to introduce the continuing newcomers to our weekend of all-male naturist fun as only Key West can offer! We promise you will leave after the weekend with new friends, new experiences, and maybe just a little worn out. We hope you will enjoy all the fun we have in store for you.

Bone Island was started thirteen years ago as a way to gather naturist men for a weekend of camaraderie and share with them the beauty and fun of Key West. It wouldn't happen without the support and encouragement of my friends in the local community. This event is without question a community effort and I thank all of our business partners for their continued assistance. They welcome us on their properties with open arms, and they and their staffs provide us fantastic venues to enjoy our weekend together. During your weekend, please show your support to all of our sponsors and partners, including the servers and service people who are working hard to make sure you have a fun and comfortable visit.

I'm very proud of how far Bone Island Bare It All has come since the first weekend in December 2006. Each time, more men discover our unique brand of fun and go home telling their buddies about it. I'm also thrilled with our recent distinction as one of The Huffington Post's "Top 13 LGBT things to do in 2013" and 2015. Finally, thank YOU for making Bone Island Bare It All the joy it is. Without you guys, I'd just be sitting in my backyard naked. So, thanks for choosing to make the trip down the Keys. Remember the sunscreen and to play safe. Enjoy our Bone Island!

ASK NANA

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

My friend is a terrible tipper. If I don't watch her when we go out, she'd tip a waiter in a nice restaurant 10% or less. I've brought it up with her before but she just blows me off. It really gets under my skin and I don't know what to do about it.

Oh honey, that's a tough one. First of all, I don't condone your friend's behavior. When I was a young woman two of the only jobs a young gal could get was as a waitress or a stripper. And both consider tipping a requirement!

First of all, if you can't tip the scales of her frozen, hollow heart with the plight of the North American waiter, then perhaps make it personal. Insist, when you do go out with her, that she let you give the tip so that your conscience is clean. And then make it clear that this means going out to dinner with her might be too costly to do all the time. If she doesn't get the hint then, I'd say take servers out of the picture and tell her you'll do stuff with her that doesn't involve screwing over anyone in the service industry. She might not care about them, but she damn well better care about you. And if she doesn't, you need to think about that for a while.

Dear Nana,

What's your favorite wine for the summer time?

I'm pretty easy when it comes to wine. Some people get all crazy and talk about grape varietals and the soil in this region or that one. For me, I like a nice, light, white wine. Some people call it "vodka".

DO YOU HAVE PROBLEMS? OF COURSE YOU DO! WHY NOT LET NANA HELP YOU?!

WHORE--SCOPES

AQUARIUS JAN 20 - FEB 18

A bus station is where a bus stops. A train station is where a train stops. On your desk, you have a work station.

PISCES FEB 19 - MAR 20

It's okay to be ugly, but aren't you overdoing it?

ARIES MAR 21 - APR 19

If I gave a shit, you'd be the first person I'd give it to.

TAURUS APR 20 - MAY 20

The fact that no one understands you doesn't mean you're an artist.

GEMINI MAY 21 - JUN 20

I like you. You remind me of when I was young and stupid.

CANCER JUN 21 - JUL 22

I see you've set aside this special time to humiliate yourself in public.

LEO JUL 23 - AUG 22

Save Your Breath... You'll need it to blow up your date.

VIRGO AUG 23 - SEP 22

If you can't laugh at yourself, I'll be glad to do so for you.

LIBRA SEP 23 - OCT 22

I'd like to leave you with one thought, but I'm not sure you have a place to put it.

SCORPIO OCT 23 - NOV 21

My imaginary friend thinks you have serious mental problems.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 - DEC 21

Those penis enlargement pills you took must be working. You're a bigger dick now than you were last week.

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

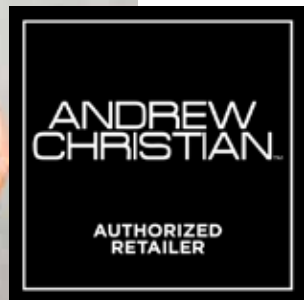

Go on. Add some variety to your sex life...use the other hand.
